JURIS LEADERSHIP ALLIANCE (JLA) DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE ACT

This Act serves as the amicable procedure to be followed after an office bearer or a member has committed an act that contravenes the constitution or that act that goes against the Organization's, not limited to subject, purpose and belief.

1. A person may be subjected to disciplinary action if he/she contravenes any of the provisions of the (JURIS LEADERSHIP ALLIANCE hereafter known as JLA) Constitution.
2. Any member can lodge a complaint, in written form, through the Head of discipline.
3. The disciplinary procedure shall be as follows;
 - a. A member lodging a complaint against another is to do so within 21 days from the date of occurrence of the alleged misconduct.
 - b. The disciplinary committee (shall consist of the Executive Committee Members) investigates the alleged misconduct and determines whether there is a reasonable basis for commencing the disciplinary process.
 - c. If a reasonable basis is established the member is to be issued with a formal written notice detailing the exact allegations, the evidence gathered and the potential consequences.
 - d. The accused is therefore required to issue a response towards the allegations within 7 days.
 - e. The accused response is reviewed to determine whether his/her explanation satisfactorily addresses the allegations or whether further disciplinary action is necessary.
 - f. The disciplinary hearing begins and the accused shall have the right to representation.
 - g. During the disciplinary hearing, the accused should be given a genuine opportunity to present their defense, challenge the allegations, provide supporting evidence, and, where appropriate, call witnesses or respond to evidence presented against them.

- h. After considering all the evidence presented during the disciplinary process, the disciplinary committee should make a reasoned and objective decision which shall be communicated in writing.
4. An individual dissatisfied with the decision of the disciplinary committee has a right to appeal against that decision within 7 days.
5. The appeal shall be heard by a separate ad hoc appeals committee that was not involved in the initial decision.
6. The decision on appeal shall be final.
7. Thereafter, the disciplinary committee will determine the verdict of the individual at their discretion.
